To celebrate its first birthday, The Vaults, a multi-disciplinary arts space located in the underground world of Waterloo station is opening a permanent gallery space.

The Vaults Gallery will feature a monthly exhibition programme of dynamic artists alongside an array of carefully selected and affordable works on paper to complement the ever-evolving graffiti canvas of Leake Street and the site's existing programme of alternative events.

The Vaults Gallery is thrilled to feature collaborators Holly-Anne Buck and Adam Milburn for this exciting event. The pair will present a piece of Sonic and Visual Collagism in ALIENESE 24 HOUR.

Buck and Milburn began collaborating whilst living in Tokyo in 2002 with their audio visual project Mink Engine. Together their multi-disciplinary work has been shown widely around the world. As artists and producers their work explores the relationship between sound and pictures.

ALIENESE 24 HOUR is a new video work that explores the internet of you, me, them and whatever is now, summed up perfectly in a quote by sampling artist Girl Talk 'We're all the same dude, dude'. ALIENESE 24 HOUR is audio visual Collagism, a new language that describes now.

Masks made in Collagism workshops by Collagism, Benito Juárez, Oliver Baggot, Jay Harper, Will Merryn Edgecombe & Kids from World End Estate 2013/2014.
